

Alta Roofing and Waterproofing has emergency response roofing experience with severe weather event to impact Southern California in the past 3 decades, including the “El Nino” rain of 1998, the record setting rainfall of 2004-2005 and more. Our level of commitment, expertise and accountability in the face of an emergency is foundational in our company values and second to none in the industry.

Whether your roof is damaged by a severe storm, a fire, a natural disaster or has just sprung a leak on a rainy day, emergency roof repair is the best solution. Proper roof repairs can take time, especially if other roofs in your area are damaged. Emergency roofing is also an important part of the cleanup and remediation efforts following a flood, since buildings must be cleaned and dried before repairs can begin.

ALTA PROVIDES THE FOLLOWING EMERGENCY SERVICES:

- ✓ Roof Cover-Ups
- ✓ Leak Damage Repair
- ✓ Fire Damage Repair
- ✓ Wind Damage Repair
- ✓ Temporary Repair

IMPORTANT!

After a severe storm, many business owners are tempted to cover up the roof themselves. Damaged structures are dangerous and roofs can be slippery or unsound. DIY roof cover-ups are not as effective as professionally installed cover-ups and we have access to stronger materials than big box home improvement stores carry. We can even shrink wrap roofs with missing decking, damaged structural supports, and missing walls.
